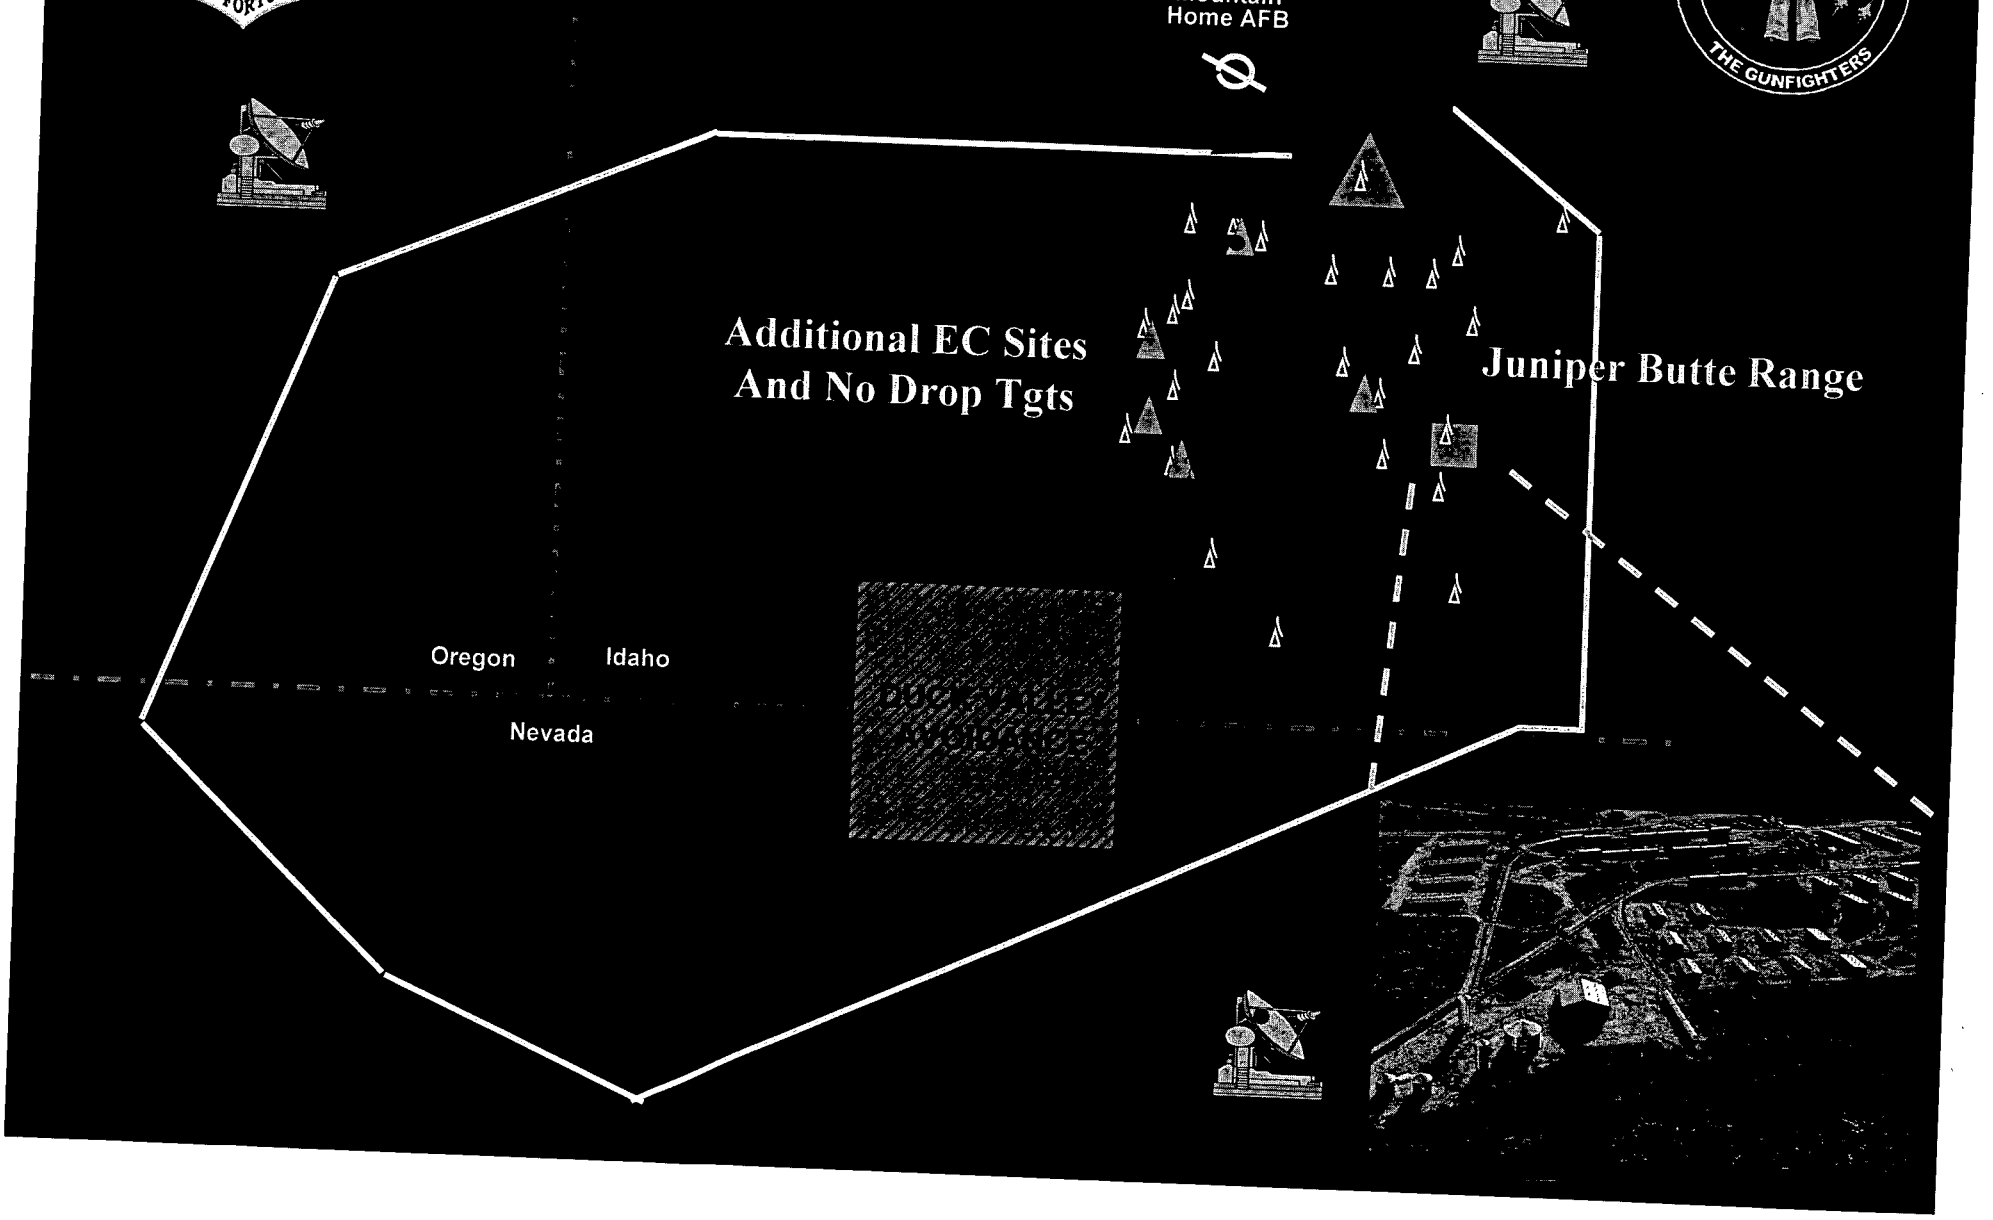
366th FIGHTER WING



Nellis-MHTR Comparison

Environmental Resources

- Water: Existing Rights 2 x current usage
- Land
  - Public Land/Undeveloped Land in every direction
  - No Encroachment
  - No Threatened or Endangered Species; No Critical Habitat
  - No Significant Jurisdictional Wetlands

Bottom Line:
Environmental Resources Enable Mission Accomplishment

Gunfighter Facilities: Environmental Stewardship

- Slickspot Pepper Grass Nominated for Listing under ESA by Environmental Groups
- AF Conservation efforts already in place
- Worked in Parallel with BLM, State and Private Landowners
- Conservation more effective inside range, species not put on ESA
- NO MISSION IMPACTS

But what about…?

- Bighorn Sheep: FW voluntarily observes modest, seasonal overflight restrictions on BHS lambing areas, no training impact
- Duck Valley Reservation: FW voluntarily adopted overflight restrictions over reservation out of respect for this community
- Endangered Species: 4 types of snails but no training impact
- Bottom Line: NO IMPAIRMENT OF MISSION CAPABILITY

366th FIGHTER WING

- MHAFB offers unique combat training capability
  - Remote facility—(access, expansion, force protection)
  - Un-encroached airspace, high desert climate, 300+ flying days/year
  - No environmental issues that impact training
  - Plentiful ramp space (220 fighters at MHAFB)
  - Superb facilities
  - Land available for expansion
  - Fully merged/robust Total Force operations

OSD Proposal

- FY09 – 18 Aircraft F-15E squadron arrives
- FY11 – 18 Aircraft F-15C, 18 Aircraft F-16CJ squadrons depart
- Loss of approximately 540 military/civilian positions
- We can execute the OSD proposal
