The Honorable Anthony J. Principi,

I am a Senior at Eastern New Mexico University and I have learned in my three years in this community that Cannon has a huge impact in this area. If Cannon is closed the Clovis and Portales communities will suffer. The people that come here because of Cannon bring family which means the public school recieve more students, and that helps the school recieve more funds. These people also boost the economy for these communities. Cannon is not only a base, but it is now part of the community it serves.

Respectfully Yours,

Misty Morgan

I am a Senior at Eastern New Mexico University, and in my three years in this community I have learned that Cannon has a huge impact on the Clovis and Portales communities. Cannon brings in many people that serve to make these communities survive. For example the families that come in with the men and women help the public schools, they boost the economy with their commerce, and they provide 2/3 of the work force in these communities. Closing Cannon will be very devastating because it isn't just an air force base it is part of the communities it serves.

Respectfully Yours

The Honorable Philip Coyle

I am a Senior at Eastern New Mexico University. and in the three years living in this community I've learned that Cannon has a huge impact on the Clovis and Portales communities. For example the families that come with the men and women of Cannon, and these children are able to boost the number of students in public schools which increases their funds. Cannon also provides 21% of the workforce for this area. Cannon isn't just an air force base, it is a place that serves and is a big part of the community that it is in.

Respectfully Yours
