DCN:4561

To James H Bilbray:

It seems once again that our military seems to be down sizing.

The paper says that you are changing from a static air base system to a more mobile capability.

These mobile warriors have to train somewhere, and doubt that there could be a better base for flight training in this country.

Take another look at this situation, keeping in mind that thousands of lives will be affected by your decision.

Respectfully,
Mitch Turlough

RECEIVED 5/25/08