Hearing of the Commission

1:30 PM
May 17th, 2005

216 Hart Senate Office Building, Washington D.C.

Good Afternoon,

I'm Anthony J. Principi, Chairman of the 2005 Base Closure and Realignment Commission, or BRAC. I'm pleased to welcome the Honorable Gordon England, Secretary of the Navy, Admiral Vern Clark, Chief of Naval Operations, and General Michael Hagee, Commandant of the United States Marine Corps. They are joined by Anne Rathmell Davis, Deputy Assistant Secretary of the Navy for Infrastructure Strategy and Analysis, who is prepared to comment on the methodology employed by the Navy and Marine Corps in arriving at the recommended list.

As I have noted in my public remarks, the Congress entrusts our Armed Forces with vast, but not unlimited, resources. Every dollar consumed in redundant, unnecessary, obsolete, inappropriately designed or located infrastructure is a dollar not available to provide the training or research that could ensure continued dominance of the sea, air and land - the battle space -- in which our service members fight.

Today's hearing will help shed more light on the Navy and Marine Corps recommendations for restructuring our nation's defense installations, and harnessing this process to advance long-term transformation goals.

In support of that objective, we will hear testimony today from the Department of the Navy's decision-makers. I know that the Navy and Marine Corps have poured an enormous amount of time, energy, and brainpower into the final product that is the subject of our hearing. It is only logical and proper that our witnesses be afforded this opportunity to explain to the American public, and to our independent Commission, what they've proposed to do to the Navy and Marine Corps infrastructure that supports Joint military operations.

As I have previously stated publicly, this Commission takes its responsibility very seriously to provide an objective and independent analysis of these recommendations. We will carefully study each Navy, Marine Corps, and Department of Defense recommendation in a transparent manner, steadily seeking input from affected communities, to make sure they fully meet the Congressionally mandated selection criteria. Those recommendations that substantially deviate from the criteria, we will either modify or reject as the facts and circumstances warrant.

DCN: 11907

I now request our witnesses to stand for the administration of the oath required by the Base Closure and Realignment statute. The oath will be administered by Mr. Dan Cowhig.

Mr. Cowhig.

[witnesses to swear required oath]

Base Closure and Realignment Commission

Hearing on Navy Recommendations and Methodology

Witnesses:

The Honorable Gordon R. England, Secretary of the Navy;
Admiral Vern Clark, Chief of Naval Operations; and General Michael W. Hagee, Commandant, Marine Corps.

May 17, 2005

Force Structure

1. Describe the Navy in terms of the number of carriers, destroyers, and submarines that you used to identify the number of shipyards, naval stations, etc. that are needed. Please describe the future Marine Corps and the capabilities that will need to be supported.
2. How will the relocation of Mine Countermeasures Ships from Ingleside to San Diego affect support to U.S. east coast ports and deployment sites?

Shipyards

3. In the Navy recommendation for closure of the Naval Shipyard, Portsmouth, ME, payback is expected within four years. Does this, as well as the "one-time" cost, take into account all costs associated with the proper movement and disposal of nuclear shipyard equipment and waste?

Depot Support

4. What are the most important changes in ship (Littoral Combat Ship) and aircraft (Joint Strike Fighter) design and capability that you see on the horizon that would impact naval depots?
5. A major part of the realignments consist of the integration of intermediate and depot level maintenance. What metrics were used in determining these consolidations?

Surge Capacity

6. If your recommendations are accepted, how much of a sustained increase in workload can our shipyards and Fleet Readiness Centers accept during a surge period without procuring additional equipment? Do you plan to move any major equipment from closing industrial facilities to those that are staying open?
7. Several justifications refer to a “maximum capacity of 1.5 shifts”. Why was that measure developed as shifts that are usually performed one, two or three times daily?

Environmental

8. For the record, what are the total environmental costs for the Navy under BRAC 2005 and how do these costs compare to the environmental costs of BRAC 93 & 95?
9. Were environmental remediation costs about what was expected? Are there any Navy or USMC bases that you will not recommend for closure because of environmental costs? Is there any indication that, with time, costs may be mitigated either through technological improvement or simply through the effects of time? If so, is the argument that the Navy has to pay the bill eventually still valid?

10. The Navy has performed Scenarios of Environment Impacts for each of the recommended closures and realignments and concluded that no environmental impacts would preclude implementing any of the recommendations. Since neither reuse plans nor studies to identify related environmental restoration requirements have been initiated, how were final restoration costs determined?
11. What were the environmental lessons learned from the previous BRACs that were incorporated into the 2005 recommended closures and realignments?
12. Were there opportunities to create joint functions that did not materialize? Did the Navy consider allowing other Services to become the DOD "center of excellence" for additional functions?
13. Would the Navy consider leasing space to other Government agencies on bases where it has sufficient capacity if it were permitted to do so?
14. Based on the Navy's list of recommendations there are numerous functions to be consolidated, reduced, transferred, relocated and realigned not only with joint services but more so within the Navy Department. Please tell the commission why so many of Navy's functions are so misaligned now and were not resolved in previous BRACs? What assurance do we have that the closures and realignments recommended to the commission will improve the Navy's effectiveness and efficiencies over what has not happen in prior BRACs?

Research & Development

15. Explain how the Navy defined capacity for laboratories and technical facilities. Is capacity a useful measure for such activities?
16. Do you perceive that the Navy and Marine Corps have been unduly hampered in its quest to reduce the number of Navy and USMC Reserve Centers by state and local issues? What states have resisted closure recommendations? Why did the Navy find it necessary to include the many, relatively small, Reserve centers in the BRAC process when the Department could have handled them independently?

Support Functions

17. There is a large move to China Lake in the Department's recommendations. Is there sufficient capacity to accommodate the influx of functions and personnel? If not, what are your plans to achieve such capacity?
18. Marine Corps Logistics Base Barstow is transferring significant capability to a variety of other facilities. Will this move provide sufficient responsive capacity to properly support Marine Corps needs?

General Topics

19. Previous BRAC decisions appear to be reversed in the 2005 recommendations. For example, Officer Candidate School was moved from Newport, RI to Pensacola and now you're recommending sending it back to Newport. You are making sweeping changes to your Naval Aviation Depots and Aviation Intermediate Maintenance Facilities as well. How permanently do you view these current sweeping recommendations?
20. Have your BRAC recommendations provided for the Navy's ability to provide space and logistic support if it becomes necessary for ships to provide capabilities between the Atlantic and Pacific arenas?
21. Recently there has been renewed interest in agility and quick response. Are we at a disadvantage in places like Seattle and Bremerton where there are long "sea and anchor" details before ships reach the open sea? Does the San Francisco Bay area look more attractive as a homeport than it did ten years ago?
22. Please describe to us the "Sea Swap" initiative that keeps some of the Navy capability forward-positioned and explain how that affected BRAC deliberations on home porting, naval stations, and naval air stations.
