Dear Ms. DelMonte,

Our eldest son is currently serving in the USMC as a Lance Corporal in the MSSG 13th MEU unit 42330 attached to the Navy's USS Pearl Harbor.

Joshua's unit left port at San Diego on July 16th and although he is far from home right now we know these men and women need all the support we can give.

Before he left for boot camp in 2003 and during his leaves, he usually ends up on base for one reason or another. So, not only is it a major border protection; it's also local support for area

servicemen men and women,
active or reservists.

Keep up the fight!
and thank you.

Dear Sirs:

Frequently when I'm working in my back yard, I'll hear the familiar sound of that wonderful C-130 and the Refueling planes over head. Sounds crazy but I always wave. I know they can't see me but it is so re-assuring to know they are there. These dedicated men and women at Niagara Falls Air Base deserve to keep the base they are so proud of; that we are so proud of.

They have been to Iraq and back several times and are ready to go back again if need be.

The Air Base in Niagara Falls should remain open!!

re: Niagara Falls Air Base

I am not only writing as a citizen, but as a mother of an air force reservist. We are pleading with you not to close Niagara Falls Air Base. This is not only for very personal reasons, but for the safety of our country.

These reservists were ~~not~~ among the very first to serve their country in Iraq. They are still over there and also were there during desert storm.

This base serves as protection not only for western New York but to our neighbor Canada. The power source for the Northeast is also located in Niagara Falls.

Moving these planes all to one area is not a great idea. We need this protection here. Now that the terrorists just hit London, please stop and think and consider

Saving our great Niagara Falls Base.
