

BRAC 2005
Education & Training Joint Cross-Service Group

Meeting Minutes of March 21, 2003

The Principal Deputy Under Secretary of Defense (P&R) chaired this meeting. The list of attendees is attached.

The Chairman opened the first meeting of the Education & Training Joint Cross-Service Group (JCSG) with introductions. Members briefed on the sensitivity of BRAC information and were asked to sign nondisclosure statements, if they had not done so previously. The Office of the General Counsel Advisor provided the group with a package (attached) to be used in protecting BRAC information throughout the process. The material included a standard nondisclosure statement, cover sheet for transmitting BRAC documents, and standard headers/footers to include on BRAC documents.

The Chairman then briefed the group on the tasks originating from both the Secretary of Defense's November 15, 2002, "kickoff" memorandum and the Under Secretary of Defense's (Acquisition, Technology and Logistics) (USD(AT&L)) March 31, 2003, memorandum establishing the Education & Training JCSG. The previous BRAC round did not include a similar JCSG, therefore, this group does not have a specific pattern to emulate.

The Chairman said the mission of the JCSG is to conduct a broad, comprehensive review of education and training functions across the Department of Defense. He conveyed that he wants this group to be bold in its review, evaluating functions from a joint perspective. The Chairman briefed the group on the immediate task, which is to provide the Infrastructure Steering Group (ISG) with a report on its proposed functions for analysis, organizational structure, analytical approach, and notional metrics.

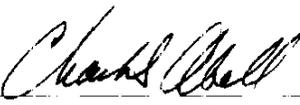

The Chairman discussed some preliminary thoughts on how to organize the JCSG and suggested functional groupings for consideration. An outline of the functional groups and suggested functions was provided to members (attached). The group discussed the need to be cognizant of functions that may cross into other JCSGs (e.g., ranges) and ensure there is coordination as the functions are defined. The Chair informed members that the 20-year force structure horizon outlined in the Secretary's kickoff memorandum applies to all functions, not just ranges.

The group discussed the draft outline discussing the need to develop a comprehensive list of all education and training functions and then determine which functions will be analyzed by this JCSG. For functions that are excluded from the group's joint review, the group will need to document the rationale for making the exclusion. The Chairman asked that the members review and refine the outline, suggesting additions to the subgroups and functional categories for discussion at the next JCSG meeting.

Discussion ensued regarding how the Interservice Training Review Organization (ITRO) or its work might be used in developing and facilitating the Education & Training JCSG functional review. The group was informed that ITRO was not named as a member to the JCSG, but could be invited to brief on ideas for consolidating functions which can be used within the BRAC process as long as data needed to conduct the analysis is certified.

In closing the meeting, the Chairman asked that members provide him with comments on the proposed functions and notional metrics by Wednesday. He noted that the JCSG will use the AT&L template for input.

The BRAC process is an official, sensitive and deliberative process. All participants must take their duties to conduct the BRAC process in an objective and impartial manner seriously. Any unauthorized disclosure of BRAC information undermines the trust that the public and all levels of government place in the process. Therefore, each Joint Cross-Service Group (JCSG) must ensure that each member of the group sign a nondisclosure agreement (attachment 1) and protect information in a manner consistent with the attached samples.

Attachment 1—Nondisclosure agreement. Each member of the JCSG or any other individuals that support the JCSG must sign the nondisclosure agreement. Each of the Chairs must provide the signed nondisclosure agreements to the OSD BRAC office.

Attachment 2—Sample cover sheet. A cover sheet similar to the attached sample must be used to protect all BRAC information. The cover sheet can be altered with appropriate office symbols and contact information, but the precautionary words must be retained.

Attachment 3—Sample document with sensitive labels. Every document produced by the JCSG must have in either the header or footer the phrase either “Draft Deliberative Document—For Discussion Purposes Only.
