

JUL 13 2005

Received

To: Commissioner Harold Gehman Jr.
From: Ryan Barton
Date: July 8, 2005
Subject: Naval Air Station Brunswick

Dear Commissioner,

I am writing this letter to urge you to remove Naval Air Station Brunswick from the Base Re-Alignment List.

I live in Florida, but have many relatives in southern New Hampshire and southern Maine. The economy of this area of the country is not as forgiving as the Floridian economy. The movement of squadrons to Florida will hurt New Englanders more than Floridians.

I attended a Portland Sea Dogs baseball game in Portland Maine on June 22 when I became aware of the urgent need for public support regarding this important issue.

Many people depend on this vital military base as their source of income. Whether civilian, military, or surrounding businesses that provide services to those that work there, the base NEEDS to stay fully open.

I live in the Orlando area and saw the Navy base close. It became yet another project for developers to make money on. The little guys, like those that will lose their jobs if the base closes, won't benefit one cent from this closing.

The strategic location of NASB makes this base a priceless asset not only for the North Atlantic, but for the entire northeast.

Ryan Barton
676 NSR 415
Osteen, Fl 32764
407-322-7323
bartmann67@peoplepc.com

JUL 13 2005

Received

To: Commissioner Anthony Principi
From: Ryan Barton
Date: July 8, 2005
Subject: Naval Air Station Brunswick

Dear Commissioner,

I am writing this letter to urge you to remove Naval Air Station Brunswick from the Base Re-Alignment List.

I live in Florida, but have many relatives in southern New Hampshire and southern Maine. The economy of this area of the country is not as forgiving as the Floridian economy. The movement of squadrons to Florida will hurt New Englanders more than Floridians.

I attended a Portland Sea Dogs baseball game in Portland Maine on June 22 when I became aware of the urgent need for public support regarding this important issue.

Many people depend on this vital military base as their source of income. Whether civilian, military, or surrounding businesses that provide services to those that work there, the base NEEDS to stay fully open.

I live in the Orlando area and saw the Navy base close. It became yet another project for developers to make money on. The little guys, like those that will lose their jobs if the base closes, won't benefit one cent from this closing.

The strategic location of NASB makes this base a priceless asset not only for the North Atlantic, but for the entire northeast.

Ryan Barton
676 NSR 415
Osteen, Fl 32764
407-322-7323
bartmann67@peoplepc.com

JUL 13 2005

Received

To: Commissioner Claude Milton Kicklighter
From: Ryan Barton
Date: July 8, 2005
Subject: Naval Air Station Brunswick

Dear Commissioner,

I am writing this letter to urge you to remove Naval Air Station Brunswick from the Base Re-Alignment List.

I live in Florida, but have many relatives in southern New Hampshire and southern Maine. The economy of this area of the country is not as forgiving as the Floridian economy. The movement of squadrons to Florida will hurt New Englanders more than Floridians.

I attended a Portland Sea Dogs baseball game in Portland Maine on June 22 when I became aware of the urgent need for public support regarding this important issue.

Many people depend on this vital military base as their source of income. Whether civilian, military, or surrounding businesses that provide services to those that work there, the base NEEDS to stay fully open.

I live in the Orlando area and saw the Navy base close. It became yet another project for developers to make money on. The little guys, like those that will lose their jobs if the base closes, won't benefit one cent from this closing.

The strategic location of NASB makes this base a priceless asset not only for the North Atlantic, but for the entire northeast.

Ryan Barton

676 NSR 415

Osteen, Fl 32764

407-322-7323

bartmann67@peoplepc.com

JUL 13 2005

Received

To: Commissioner Samuel Knox Skinner
From: Ryan Barton
Date: July 8, 2005
Subject: Naval Air Station Brunswick

Dear Commissioner,

I am writing this letter to urge you to remove Naval Air Station Brunswick from the Base Re-Alignment List.

I live in Florida, but have many relatives in southern New Hampshire and southern Maine. The economy of this area of the country is not as forgiving as the Floridian economy. The movement of squadrons to Florida will hurt New Englanders more than Floridians.

I attended a Portland Sea Dogs baseball game in Portland Maine on June 22 when I became aware of the urgent need for public support regarding this important issue.

Many people depend on this vital military base as their source of income. Whether civilian, military, or surrounding businesses that provide services to those that work there, the base NEEDS to stay fully open.

I live in the Orlando area and saw the Navy base close. It became yet another project for developers to make money on. The little guys, like those that will lose their jobs if the base closes, won't benefit one cent from this closing.

The strategic location of NASB makes this base a priceless asset not only for the North Atlantic, but for the entire northeast.

Ryan Barton

676 NSR 415

Osteen, Fl 32764

407-322-7323

bartmann67@peoplepc.com

JUL 13 2005

Received

To: Commissioner Sue Ellen Turner
From: Ryan Barton
Date: July 8, 2005
Subject: Naval Air Station Brunswick

Dear Commissioner,

I am writing this letter to urge you to remove Naval Air Station Brunswick from the Base Re-Alignment List.

I live in Florida, but have many relatives in southern New Hampshire and southern Maine. The economy of this area of the country is not as forgiving as the Floridian economy. The movement of squadrons to Florida will hurt New Englanders more than Floridians.

I attended a Portland Sea Dogs baseball game in Portland Maine on June 22 when I became aware of the urgent need for public support regarding this important issue.

Many people depend on this vital military base as their source of income. Whether civilian, military, or surrounding businesses that provide services to those that work there, the base NEEDS to stay fully open.

I live in the Orlando area and saw the Navy base close. It became yet another project for developers to make money on. The little guys, like those that will lose their jobs if the base closes, won't benefit one cent from this closing.

The strategic location of NASB makes this base a priceless asset not only for the North Atlantic, but for the entire northeast.

Ryan Barton
676 NSR 415
Osteen, Fl 32764
407-322-7323
bartmann67@peoplepc.com

JUL 13 2005

Received

To: Commissioner James Bilbray
From: Ryan Barton
Date: July 8, 2005
Subject: Naval Air Station Brunswick

Dear Commissioner,

I am writing this letter to urge you to remove Naval Air Station Brunswick from the Base Re-Alignment List.

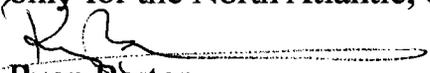

I live in Florida, but have many relatives in southern New Hampshire and southern Maine. The economy of this area of the country is not as forgiving as the Floridian economy. The movement of squadrons to Florida will hurt New Englanders more than Floridians.

I attended a Portland Sea Dogs baseball game in Portland Maine on June 22 when I became aware of the urgent need for public support regarding this important issue.

Many people depend on this vital military base as their source of income. Whether civilian, military, or surrounding businesses that provide services to those that work there, the base NEEDS to stay fully open.

I live in the Orlando area and saw the Navy base close. It became yet another project for developers to make money on. The little guys, like those that will lose their jobs if the base closes, won't benefit one cent from this closing.

The strategic location of NASB makes this base a priceless asset not only for the North Atlantic, but for the entire northeast.

Ryan Barton
676 NSR 415
Osteen, Fl 32764
407-322-7323
bartmann67@peoplepc.com

JUL 13 2005

Received

To: Commissioner James Hansen
From: Ryan Barton
Date: July 8, 2005
Subject: Naval Air Station Brunswick

Dear Commissioner,

I am writing this letter to urge you to remove Naval Air Station Brunswick from the Base Re-Alignment List.

I live in Florida, but have many relatives in southern New Hampshire and southern Maine. The economy of this area of the country is not as forgiving as the Floridian economy. The movement of squadrons to Florida will hurt New Englanders more than Floridians.

I attended a Portland Sea Dogs baseball game in Portland Maine on June 22 when I became aware of the urgent need for public support regarding this important issue.

Many people depend on this vital military base as their source of income. Whether civilian, military, or surrounding businesses that provide services to those that work there, the base NEEDS to stay fully open.

I live in the Orlando area and saw the Navy base close. It became yet another project for developers to make money on. The little guys, like those that will lose their jobs if the base closes, won't benefit one cent from this closing.

The strategic location of NASB makes this base a priceless asset not only for the North Atlantic, but for the entire northeast.

Ryan Barton
676 NSR 415
Osteen, Fl 32764
407-322-7323
bartmann67@peoplepc.com

JUL 13 2005

Received

To: Commissioner Phillip Coyle
From: Ryan Barton
Date: July 8, 2005
Subject: Naval Air Station Brunswick

Dear Commissioner,

I am writing this letter to urge you to remove Naval Air Station Brunswick from the Base Re-Alignment List.

I live in Florida, but have many relatives in southern New Hampshire and southern Maine. The economy of this area of the country is not as forgiving as the Floridian economy. The movement of squadrons to Florida will hurt New Englanders more than Floridians.

I attended a Portland Sea Dogs baseball game in Portland Maine on June 22 when I became aware of the urgent need for public support regarding this important issue.

Many people depend on this vital military base as their source of income. Whether civilian, military, or surrounding businesses that provide services to those that work there, the base NEEDS to stay fully open.

I live in the Orlando area and saw the Navy base close. It became yet another project for developers to make money on. The little guys, like those that will lose their jobs if the base closes, won't benefit one cent from this closing.

The strategic location of NASB makes this base a priceless asset not only for the North Atlantic, but for the entire northeast.

Ryan Barton

676 NSR 415

Osteen, Fl 32764

407-322-7323

bartmann67@peoplepc.com

JUL 13 2005

Received

To: Commissioner James Hill
From: Ryan Barton
Date: July 8, 2005
Subject: Naval Air Station Brunswick

Dear Commissioner,

I am writing this letter to urge you to remove Naval Air Station Brunswick from the Base Re-Alignment List.

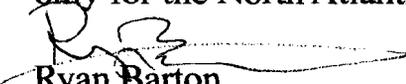

I live in Florida, but have many relatives in southern New Hampshire and southern Maine. The economy of this area of the country is not as forgiving as the Floridian economy. The movement of squadrons to Florida will hurt New Englanders more than Floridians.

I attended a Portland Sea Dogs baseball game in Portland Maine on June 22 when I became aware of the urgent need for public support regarding this important issue.

Many people depend on this vital military base as their source of income. Whether civilian, military, or surrounding businesses that provide services to those that work there, the base NEEDS to stay fully open.

I live in the Orlando area and saw the Navy base close. It became yet another project for developers to make money on. The little guys, like those that will lose their jobs if the base closes, won't benefit one cent from this closing.

The strategic location of NASB makes this base a priceless asset not only for the North Atlantic, but for the entire northeast.

Ryan Barton

676 NSR 415

Osteen, Fl 32764

407-322-7323

bartmann67@peoplepc.com